

Tschung-Sun Kim is a professor of the Department of Korean Studies and a director of Academia Via Serica in Keimyung University. He holds a PhD in History of Religion from Saarland University in 1988. He serves as an editor-in-chief of Acta Via Serica and Acta Koreana. He has extensively published on Korean Shamanism, Daoism, and the contacts and evolving relationships between people with different religious backgrounds, such as BIRDMAN: Pathfinder of Korean Shamanism published by Sot'ong Press, Seoul, in 2010, and "Antiqueness and Coarseness: Understanding Korean Aesthetics from the Perspective of Daoism" published in Acta Koreana in 2010.